

First actual work in the building program for inauguration begins. This lumber, placed at the Capitol, will be turned into grandstands.

National Photo Co.

Miss Elizabeth Walmsley of Washington and R. L. Locke of New York skating at Lake Placid, Essex county, N. Y. The region of Lake Placid has, within the past few years, become an "American Switzerland" in winter sports.

Underwood & Underwood

Rear Admiral Newton A. McCully, U. S. N., former American high commissioner at Sebastopol, Russia, and the seven Russian children he has tentatively adopted. The children were held at Ellis Island, but Admiral McCully came on to Washington, obtained from the Labor Department an order for their temporary admission, and then brought them to his Washington home. He intends to adopt them formally if there is no legal bar.

International Film Service

This style of pyramid riding is an everyday event with members of the 3d Cavalry at Fort Myer. It looks easy—but try it just once, with your mount galloping like mad across a parade ground!

International Film Service

The youngest woman officer in the world war, Miss Anna Woodman of England, who has arrived in America for a visit. Miss Anna, at the age of fourteen, enlisted with the Green Cross Society of London, serving in canteen work in England and France. A year later she was commissioned a lieutenant in the Women's Army Auxilliary Corps and detailed to the transport service, making weekly trips through the U-boat-infested waters of the English channel. Later she served at the front with the ambulance corps.

International Film Service

Broadway theatrical stars in a bunch, the occasion being the presentation of a loving cup to Francis Wilson on the opening night of "Erminie," the revival of an old success. Back row, left to right: Fred Stone, John Emerson and Frank Gillman. Center row: William Farnum, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen, Laurette Taylor, John Drew and Frank Bacon. In front: De Wolfe Hopper presenting the cup to Mr. Wilson.

Underwood & Underwood

CORNWELL'S MOCHA CAKE

Three golden layers of cake, generously good, caught together and crowned a-top with French Mocha cream and butter cream of luscious richness. A cocoanut coating adds crispy lure to every slice. In our French Pastry Section

CORNWELL'S
1415 H STREET